

GREATER MONTGOMERY COUNTY FAIR JULY 19, 20, 21, 22

MT. STERLING ADVOCATE.

VOLUME XXXI.

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1922.

NUMBER 77.

Uncle Johnnie Shell, 134 Years Old, Dead

John Shell, "oldest man in the world," is dead at his home at Grassy Creek, Leslie county. He had records to show that he was born in Tennessee in 1788, so that he would have been 134 years if he had lived to his next birthday, September 30.

Mr. Shell, who had lived more than 100 years on the same farm in Leslie county, was well past the military age limit when the Mexican war broke out and at the beginning of the Civil war was in his seventies. His actual age had often been called in question, but doctors who examined him said that they believed he was correct in his statement of his longevity.

One of the most remarkable things about his funeral is that at his grave two of the mourners were brothers, one 83 years older than the other. William, 90, and Albert, 7, are the twins, the latter being the son of Uncle John's second wife, who was 45 when he married her and who is the only child of their union.

By his first wife, who died 12 years ago at the reputed age of 122, Uncle John had four sons and a daughter, who survive, as do several grandchildren, and a number of great-grandchildren.

In appearance Mr. Shell was not greatly different from other extremely old persons in any community. Though considerably withered and weatherbeaten, he retained his vigor to a surprising degree and was impatient with those who would have put him away in a chimney corner. He was five feet five inches in height and weighed 103 pounds.

To those asking advice, he always replied, "Hard work is the way to keep well." He had no use for medicines and pills and was never seriously ill up to the time of his death.

Break Even With Lexington

The Mt. Sterling Essex defeated the Lexington Studebakers on the local lot Saturday afternoon in a well-played game by the score of 3 to 2, but lost to the same club Sunday afternoon to the tune of 8 to 4.

In the lineup Saturday Mt. Sterling had five new men, all showing up fairly well except Graeber at short. Morton in left field showed up especially well, taking care of everything that came his way and making three hits out of four times up. Seltz, a big right-hander, was on the mound and made a splendid showing, holding Lexington to six hits. The features of the game were a home-run by Blake and the hitting of Morton and Potts.

The summary of Saturday's game follows:

Score by innings: 000 101 000—R.

Home run—Blake. Stolen bases—Devereaux, Kelly, 2; Muth, 2. Sacrifice hits—Riesterberg, Potts, Lackey. Double play—Meyers to Potts. Struck out—by Hurst, 3; by Seltz, 4. Bases on balls—off Hurst, 3; off Seltz, 2. Hit by pitcher—by Hurst (Graeber). Time 1:50. Umpire, Spade.

This was the last game of the first half of the series and by defeating Lexington the Studebakers were put in a tie with Paris for second place.

Sunday's Game

A large crowd was at Fair Grounds park to see the newly organized Mt. Sterling team start the new schedule. Our boys started off with a rush, getting three hits, one of which was a three-bagger by Lackey, which, coupled with an error, netted us three runs. Our boys added another in the fifth on a three-bagger by Potts down the right field foul line and a fielder's choice by Blake. After this it was all over with the locals as Park settled down and retired the Essex in one-two-three or thereafter. Hilton pitched a good game for Mt. Sterling and had the Studebakers at his mercy except in the sixth and ninth innings, when they bunched hits which, coupled with errors, game them the game. In this contest the Mt. Sterling infield went to pieces which, coupled with

Blue Grass Seed May Yet Be Pooled

Farmers of Woodford, Fayette, Clark, Montgomery and Bath counties met in Winchester last week and formed a temporary organization of the Co-operative Bluegrass Seed Marketing Association. This meeting was presided over by Dwight L. Pendleton, of Winchester. The estimated production of bluegrass seed for this year is 700,000 bushels and it is understood about 500,000 bushels have already been pledged, which apparently insures the success of the organization. Another meeting will be held in Lexington tomorrow night, at which time it is thought a permanent organization will be formed and an active effort made to make the pool 100 per cent effective. The success of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association is said to have inspired the movement to pool the bluegrass seed. It is freely stated by those in a position to know that if the crop is pooled farmers will realize in the neighborhood of $1 more per bushel on their seed than they would otherwise.

STRAYED

From the Pieratt cattle pens last Monday one natural muley red steer, weight about 500 pounds, and branded with the letter "S" in blue paint. Will give reward of $10 for his delivery to me.—Sanford Garrett, Levee, Ky. (73-1f)

Dr. R. R. Garrett, Well Known Locally, Dead

Saturday afternoon, July 1, Dr. R. R. Garrett, formerly of Kentucky, well and favorably known here, where he was married to Miss Anna Laura Howe 37 years ago, and pastor of the Court street Baptist church at Norfolk, Va., for more than 20 years, entered on his reward, after having been seriously ill at a hospital in Richmond, Va., for a long period. Dr. Garrett was at one time pastor of the Carlisle Baptist church where, as at other pastorates he had served, he was loved for the true Christian character that pervaded his very being, the work accomplished in the development of his charges, the many souls won to Christ by his earnest, persuasive powers and the dispensing of charities which were a part of his Christian life.

Dr. Garrett is survived by his widow, Mrs. Wilson, of Philadelphia, and other children. Mrs. Garrett, wife of the deceased preacher, is an aunt of Charles Howe and Miss Howe, of this city.

By the death of Dr. Garrett a great man has fallen.

REDRYING STOCK SALE

As executor of J. B. Spratt, deceased, I will sell for cash at the court house door in Mt. Sterling on Saturday afternoon, July 15, at 1 o'clock, 10 shares of stock in the redrying plant, located in Mt. Sterling, Ky. I will also sell at the same time and place one roll top writing desk.—A. N. Crooks, Executor.

Bright Prospects For Local Fair

A visit to the fair grounds shows that much is being done in order that everything may be in readiness for the greatest fair known to Mt. Sterling. Talking to a fair man, we were informed that each department would be doubled over that of previous years; competition in show rings would be greater; that trotting and pacing entries would be more numerous and by more speedy animals; that races would be swifter; that there would be more of them, and it now seems that the number of people to attend the fair will also be doubled over former years. The track is in fine condition, paint is being used freely on the amphitheater and the work of pleasure will begin with July 19 and continue through four days.

For all kinds of fresh meats—beef, pork, lamb and veal—call No. 10.—Vanarsdell's.

LOCAL STORES CLOSE

THURSDAY AFTERNOONS

Beginning with last Thursday, all clothing, shoe, dry goods, millinery, grocery and 5 and 10 cent stores of Mt. Sterling will be closed on Thursday afternoons during the months of July and August. This movement, which is nation-wide, was launched so that clerks and proprietors might enjoy a half-day holiday each week during the hot summer months. Remember, the stores will close promptly at 12 o'clock each Thursday and the public is urged to make its purchases before that hour so that all stores will be enabled to close at the appointed time.

FOR SALE AND EXCHANGE

On Logan avenue and 7th street, in Paris, Ky., a two-story brick residence with all the modern improvements. The residence is on a lot 80x200 feet; has 9 rooms, porches and halls. This is desirable property, well worth the money.—See H. C. McKee. (71-1f)

DUFFY TO SPEAK

HERE SATURDAY

We are authorized to announce that Hon. H. C. Duffy, of Cynthiana, will speak at the court house in this city Saturday afternoon, July 15, at 2 o'clock in the interest of his candidacy for congress in this district. Mr. Duffy has many admirers in this section and it is hoped a large crowd will be present to hear him discuss his platform.

BIDS FOR ENLARGING THE

DONALDSON SCHOOL HOUSE

Bids will be received at the office of the county superintendent not later than Monday, July 17, at noon. Plans and specifications filed in superintendent's office. The school board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.—M. J. Goodwin, Supt.

A flapper is a girl who can't explain why she likes one young man better than another.

Chautauqua Is Drawing Crowds

The Redpath Chautauqua opened its annual engagement in this city on last Thursday and to say that the various programs presented have been well received is expressing it mildly. Mt. Sterling is known as an Old Chautauqua Town, and its offerings are always well received. Its program this year so far is said to be a splendid one, and the various lectures, musical numbers and entertainments have been elevating and instructive and are being enjoyed twice each day by large crowds. The feature play, "Turn to the Right," which was presented last night, drew an immense crowd and was said to be the best play ever given by the Redpath bureau.

Phone No. 10 for fresh and cured meats, vegetables, plain and fancy groceries. We appreciate your business.—Vanarsdell's.

HUNG JURY IN COHEN CASE

Charles Cohen, Lexington merchant, on trial for the shooting and wounding of Joseph W. Porter, banker, last November, was liberated on a $5,000 bond yesterday, the jury in the case having been dismissed after reporting that there was no hope of reaching an agreement.

INDICATIONS FOR BIG

COURT DAY MARKET

All pens in the Mt. Sterling stock yards have been taken. Space for 500 sheep has been taken and two mixed cars of ponies and mules will be here.

The proprietor of the Pieratt pens also reports all pens engaged. The above is an indication of much stock, and hence a large crowd for the coming court day, next Monday.

Best and tenderest beef, pork, lamb and veal can be found at Vanarsdell's. Phone your orders to No. 10. Prompt delivery.

Fatal Accident At Pine Grove

Two persons were killed and another seriously injured Sunday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding left the road and turned over at a curve on the Todd's road, nine miles from Lexington and one-half mile west of Pine Grove.

The dead are:

W. Clay Lacy, 50 years old, oil operator, of West Liberty.

Mrs. Edward J. Baxter, 30 years old, Lexington.

The third occupant of the car, Elvin Lindon, oil operator, Lexington, was rendered unconscious.

Mr. Lacy was well known in Mt. Sterling, where he was widely related.

LITTLE GIRL INJURED

Missouri Belle Ingraham, six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Nannie Lou Elam, was seriously, if not fatally injured last night between 6 and 7 o'clock near her home at the city limits on Richmond avenue. The little girl, with some companions, was playing in the road when a car, driven by Prewitt Young, rounded the curve. The children, seeing their danger, attempted to run to safety, some taking the left of the road, others the right. Mr. Young swerved his car in an attempt to avoid striking the children, but the ingraham child ran in his path and was struck and rendered unconscious, receiving a blow on the head from the fender of the machine. There were a number of eye witnesses to the accident and there is no blame attached to Mr. Young, who is known to be one of the most careful drivers in the county.

KINDERGARTEN AND HOME

Very important to the future welfare of the world is it that the children of today be taught the principles of justice, love and brotherhood in their widest and broadest sense. Where then shall the foundation for these be laid if not in the kindergarten, where children of all nations come, many from homes where such principles are unknown? Teach the child then that everything that has life is his brother, to be treated with kindness, love and justice.

The little girl who learns that her kitty needs her loving care, needs sleep, good food and careful handling, is learning lessons in motherhood which she will never forget. The boy who learns that his rabbits and other pets share many of his own needs, and that he stands in place of a father to them, is being trained in parenthood, and when the child has learned that his animal pets have the same right to life and happiness that he himself has, it is not likely that he will treat his human companions unjustly in after life.

In the home should begin this teaching of which brotherhood is the keynote. The wise mother will not teach her child cruelty however unintentionally, by giving him toy guns, swords and whips. Rather she will teach him compassion and thoughtful care of others, by training him to carry his Teddy bear carefully, to pat, not whip, his hobby horse, to love his animal toys yet more when "maimed or halt or blind" than when in their first glory. She will teach him that all animals are man's good friends until he himself turns them into foes. She will explain to him that the dog which barks at him is merely saying "good morning" and he must answer with a kind word, that when its wags its tail it is laughing, and that it pants because it has no pores in its skin to let the heat out in perspiration.

Above all she must teach him to be brave as well as tender, that fear attracts evil, while love and courage repel it. Never must she make the fatal mistake of repeating in the child's hearing such remarks as "he was frightened when a baby by a dog or cat or horse," as the case may be. This is to excuse cowardice in him, and keep the child reminded of what he otherwise would soon forget. "Perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath torment."

Thus are the days in both the home, and kindergarten the most important of all in moulding the child's character, and indeed it is only in early childhood that such a foundation can be well and surely laid.—Ellnor Brierly.

G. O. P. TARIFF BILL AIMS TO SHUT OUT GERMANY

The following is from a speech by Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, of Nebraska:

We can double and treble our exports to Germany if Germany is only given a chance to do business with us and with the rest of the world; and yet in the United States we are doing in this bill just exactly what France and what Great Britain have done. We are attempting to bar out trade with Germany from the foolish fear that German trade is going to injure us.

German trade would be a benefit to us. Germany never can hope to export to us as much as we can export to Germany. Germany needs so much of our raw material—so much of our cotton, so much of our copper, so much of our oil, so much of our grain, so much of our cattle, so much of our meats—that Germany is the very customer of Europe that we should encourage business with; and yet, above all other countries in the world, this bill is directed against Germany. We hear it constantly on every hand. The purpose of the bill is to shut out German goods, not against present importations—there is no pretense that present importations are injuring American business—but it is just for the future. We are asked to build a tariff wall so high as to shut out German goods, and then hope that American manufacturers, as the senator from North Dakota (Mr. McCumber) says, will reduce their charges to American customers! What warrant is there for the belief that the American manufacturers, when given a prohibitive tariff for their benefit, are going to reduce the cost to the American people? We are right now on the very eve of an era of trust formation behind the wall that you are trying to erect in this bill.

NEW CIRCULAR POINTS OUT NEEDS OF KENTUCKY SOILS

Practically all soils in Kentucky outside the thirty-five counties constituting the bluegrass region are stone for Kentucky Soils," which has just come off the press at the Col. acid and naturally deficient in phosphorus, according to a new circular entitled, "Phosphorous and Limestone of Agriculture at Lexington. More than half the soils within the bluegrass region respond profitably to phosphate treatment, while more than half the soils in the same district would respond to limestone treatment when legumes, especially sweet clover and alfalfa, are grown, the publication states.

Results from soil experiment fields being conducted in various parts of the state by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station are given in the new publication to point out the need for limestone and phosphate on the various types of soil.

On both the Mayfield and Lone Oak fields, "acid phosphate" and rock phosphate when used with limestone have produced large increases in yields, especially on the Mayfield field where the yield of corn has been increased one-third, that of soybean hay and wheat doubled and that of clover hay more than trebled. Both these fields represent the predominating upland soils of the Purchase.

On the Fariston field, which represents the soils of the eastern coal field, acid and rock phosphate, when all crops are considered, have considerably more than doubled the yields. Either of these phosphates has returned practically $3 for every dollar invested. On the Greenville field, which represents the soils of the western coal field, limestone and acid phosphate have produced more than a 50 per cent increase in the corn yield and more than doubled the yield of soybean hay, wheat and clover.

Results equally as striking have been obtained on the Russellville experiment field which represents 5,000 square miles of soil derived from St. Louis limestone and on the Berea field, which represents thousands of acres of poorly drained land adja-

INTEREST INCREASING

THE RAILROAD WALKOUT

In our issue of July 4 we published an open letter from the president of the C. & O. railroad, explaining the position of the road relative to the pending settlement of the walkout of their employees. The president stated both sides of the question and his reasoning proved the justice in the course the company was pursuing.

There is an adjustment of labor prices in progress the same as that of real estate, livestock, provisions, merchandise, etc. That patrons of the roads are demanding adjustment of rates and under existing conditions the demand is just, but when the cut comes off the tree, as it were, likewise the branches must endure the shock. If the road must make a cut it is no more than just that all labor must bear its part of the decline. We make no distinction between officials and the manual branches, for every man, be he president or the man who inspects the track, should share declines alike, and this is, as we understand it, the contention of the president.

Our sympathy is with the men of organized labor, for if the past is worth anything in judging the future we can see severe losses to those little able to bear them. Women and children become parties to all walkouts and the losses to the husband and wife bear heavily on them.

Notes of the Game

The new series started off with Parls defeating Winchester with Rasty Wright in the box by a score of 6 to 4. Maysville won a close game over Cynthiana, the final count being 5 to 4.

It is understood our new third baseman, Golden, and Myers, second baseman, have been released, while Graef will be retained at short and Morton in left field. Both of these players look especially good, and Morton has every indication of developing into one of the best batters in the league.

The schedule for the second half of the season has not yet been announced and it is not known where Thursday's game will be played or with which club.

Blake, Lackey and Potts will certainly make it hard on any pitcher and with the addition of Morton to the team they should make some "Big Four."

A little regular morning and afternoon practice and it is thought that within a couple of weeks Mt. Sterling will have the strongest team in the league. What it takes is work, and lots of it.

At a meeting of the Mt. Sterling baseball club held last night Marvin N. Gay tendered his resignation as president of the club, which was reluctantly accepted. T. B. Hill was unanimously chosen as his successor, with W. Hoffman Wood as secretary. These two men are well fitted to the places they have been chosen for, and promise to give the very best in them to produce a winning team for this city.

A new second baseman and outfielder of the Cincinnati Wiedmans are due to report today, and are said to be as fast as anything in this league. Efforts are also being made to secure a new third baseman and it is thought we will have a star in that position within a few days.

The work of Umpire Slade in Saturday's and Sunday's games was gratifying to the fans. His decisions were received as final and there was no squabbling of any kind. He seemed to have the respect of the players and fans alike, and his work did much to add interest to the game.

SITE FOR TRACK IS BOUGHT

A deal was closed last week for 260 acres of land for a race track five miles below the city limits of Ashland at a point known as Chinnville. The land was bought from the Meade, Fisher and Walker heirs. Thomas B. Cromwell, of Lexington, one of the promoters, said there would be racing there this fall.

It is claimed that the proposed race track will be one of the largest in Kentucky, both in point of track length and in the matter of buildings and grounds. The track is to be a mile and an eighth long. The total expenditure will be in the neighborhood of $400,000, he said, the concrete and steel grandstand costing about $275,000.

Ashland's present population, a matter of great importance to the promoters, is about 25,000. It has suburbs in Boyd and Greenup counties of perhaps 10,000 or more. Directly across the river from West Ashland lies Ironton, Ohio.

Produce Review

Movement of live poultry has been heavier than usual for this time of the year and as the demand for dressed poultry has fallen off to some extent, prices have worked to a lower level. It is the opinion of some of the trade that prices for poultry during the past few years have been higher relatively than for other kinds of meat, and for this reason some are predicting lower values for all kinds of poultry for the entire season.

The quality of eggs being shipped at the present time is somewhat better than a week or two ago on account of more favorable weather. The supply arriving at consuming markets is still greater than the demand, and surplus stocks are going to storage. Indications point to an extremely large surplus in storage July 1 over the same period of last year, and the trade generally looks for reasonable values to continue throughout the remainder of the year.

Butter production is showing further decrease on account of pasture conditions, but as there were heavy rains throughout a large portion of the producing territory last week, the decrease from now on should be more gradual. The demand continues good for butter for consuming purposes and for storage. The export demand which existed a few weeks ago has for the present been taken care of.

Save For What You Want Most

"That's a fine little house," said Mr. B., pointing to an attractive suburban home.

"Yes, isn't it? The young chap who owns it is a friend of mine."

"Did he build it?"

"Yes. Just the other day he was telling me how he and his wife saved the money. It seems they wanted to own their own home more than anything else. So they reduced their expenditures to save for this. And there it stands—just as they planned it."

"That shows what saving can do!"

"Yes, especially if you save for something you really want."

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING By Ada B. Greene

I don't always mean flowers when ever I say
Give flowers to the living; there's another way.
Sometimes we are careless and do not think
Of our friends as we should until it's too late.
Don't ever forget to give them a smile.
For it helps like everything once in a while.
Flowers can't cheer them after they are dead;
Give flowers to the living, as I have said;
Give flowers of sympathy, flowers of cheer,
Let them enjoy them while they are here.
They scoff and knock and kick him about
Till after he is dead—then he's a good scout.
Now, take notice of what I have said,
He is always a good fellow after he is dead;
Whatever his rank of life has been
They are sure to say that he did not sin.
Give flowers to all and you'll not regret;
I am sure that none will ever resent it.
Have a good word for each and all,
That will mean flowers, so let them fall;
So give flowers in every way—
It will help a lot some other day.

FAYETTE COUNTY GROWER IS SUED BY BURLEY POOL

The Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association late Saturday afternoon took the first step to enforce its marketing agreement and contract with its members when it served papers in a suit against Garrett Watts, wealthy Fayette county farmer, alleging that he violated his contract.

It is charged that he failed to deliver to it under that contract more than 70,000 pounds of tobacco and that he delivered only 3,550 pounds to the association. Damages in the sum of $3,500 and attorneys' fees of $1,000 additional are asked, both damages and fees being provided for by the contract itself.

Mr. Watts had been to the races at Latonia Saturday and was on his way home when a deputy sheriff boarded the train at Paris and served the papers in the suit, which was filed Saturday in the Bourbon circuit court, the association's attorneys being Franklin, Talbott and Chapman, of Lexington and Paris, and Worthington, Browning and Reed, of Maysville. Just why the papers were served in Bourbon county or why the suit is filed in that county was not made clear Saturday night.

The petition recites the details of the organization of the burley association, the provision in the contract that growers who may violate it shall pay five cents a pound as liquidated damages, as well as all costs and attorney fees, and then goes on to say that Mr. Watts pledged 75,000 pounds of tobacco, the products of 75 acres of land owned by him; that he delivered to the association only 3,550 pounds; that the association went to the expense of acquiring warehouses to receive the crop of Mt. Watts and the other members of the association and employed graders and inspectors to standardize the grades of burley tobacco, and provided for the handling, curing and shipping of all tobacco entrusted to the plaintiff association by its members.

The petition further states that due notice of the formation of the association was given Mr. Watts and all other members of the association and that Mr. Watts, "though able to do so, failed and refused to deliver to the plaintiff association or to the order of the plaintiff association or to any warehouse or plant controlled by the association, or at all, any of the tobacco, embraced in defendant's agreement and application for membership."

The plaintiff states that by reason of the defendant's breach of said contract and failure to deliver to plaintiff not less than 70,000 pounds of tobacco embraced in said agreement and application for membership, the defendant becomes indebted to plaintiff in the agreed and stipulated sum of five cents per pound thereon, aggregating $3,500, no part of which has been paid; plaintiff states that $1,000 is a reasonable attorneys' fee for plaintiff's attorneys for the prosecution of this action and that by the terms of said agreement defendant understood and agreed to pay the same, no part of which has been paid.

When the train on which Mr. Watts was coming from Latonia arrived in Paris it was boarded by Assistant Counsel Virgil Chapman, of the burley association; Clyde E. Buckley, a member, and Deputy Sheriff James Gibson. When they came to Mr. Watts' seat in the car, Mr. Buckley said pleasantly, "Good evening, Mr. Watts," and the deputy sheriff, who did not know Mr. Watts, promptly served the papers in the case, the petition having been filed previously with Circuit Clerk Webb, of the Bourbon circuit court.

The suit, the first of the kind filed since the organization of the burley association, is most important to that organization, for its success or failure will show either it has or has not the power to enforce its contracts by the punishment of those who may violate them.

KIDSVILLE

SUMMER ALFALFA SEEDING BEST DONE AUGUST 10 TO 20

Under favorable moisture conditions, the summer seeding of alfalfa is best done in Kentucky from August 10 to 20, according to George Roberts, head of the agronomy department of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. When seeded at this time of the year, the crop usually follows wheat, oats, rye, early potatoes or any other crop that comes off early. Farmers who expect to seed alfalfa this summer should prepare the ground for it as early as possible, Mr. Roberts declares.

"The ground should be broken six or seven inches deep and worked down to a well pulverized, firm condition. It usually is a good plan to precede the breaking by disking. At this time of the year it is also usually advisable to drag or harrow each day's breaking in order to pulverize the clods before they dry out. The soil should be harrowed after rains in order to conserve moisture. It also is desirable to harrow whenever young weeds or grasses appear since alfalfa does not thrive in their presence.

"If the ground is to be limed it is a good plan to put the material on as soon as the ground is broken so that subsequent preparation will help distribute it through the soil. Unless the soil is known to be naturally supplied with lime, this material should be applied at the rate of three or four tons of ground limestone an acre or one-half this amount of burned lime.

"In all parts of the state outside of the central bluegrass region it is desirable to apply from four to five hundred pounds of acid phosphate an acre. This may be done any time after the limestone is applied and previous to seeding and should be harrowed into the soil.

"Just before seeding, it is a good practice to harrow and roll the ground. The seed should not be covered any deeper than is necessary to get it in contact with moist soil and in no case deeper than one and one-half inches. If it turns dry after seeding, rolling may help. The sub-surface type of roller is best for this purpose."

CAREFUL CROSSING CAMPAIGN

During June, the first month of the "Careful Crossing Campaign," the Chesapeake and Ohio railway did not have a single highway crossing accident at any point on its more than 2,500 miles of track. This would indicate that this campaign, which was inaugurated by the American Railway Association through its safety section, is making an impression on motorists in the territory covered by the Chesapeake and Ohio.

It is difficult to understand why there should be failure to respond to the appeal to the posters being used to advertise the "Careful Crossing Campaign" which portray a crossing condition such as exists at thousands of points and a practice that is being indulged in daily by thousands of automobilists—that of trying to beat the train across the track.

The railroad safety officers, comprising the safety section of the American Railway Association, hope the campaign will demonstrate that by using reasonable care the horrors of the "Highway Crossing Crash" will be lessened greatly.

There is vast need of education and acknowledgment of personal responsibility for safety at highway crossings, and upon no one does this responsibility rest more heavily than upon the driver of the motor vehicle.

The automobile driver sometimes resents an inclination on the part of other persons to protect him from harm at highway crossings. A case in point is as follows:

Since the "Careful Crossing Campaign" started a Chesapeake and Ohio safety worker tried to stop an automobile at a crossing, but was unsuccessful when the driver ran over the crossing in front of an approaching passenger train. In fact, the safety man was forced to jump aside to avoid being run down by the automobile. The driver stopped after crossing, and displayed great indignation, abusing the man who had tried to save him from harm.

Besides the driver, the car contained two mothers with babies in their arms and an old lady who may have been the driver's mother. It is needless to state that while the driver was deaf to entreaty and warning, the safety worker received his reward in the thanks of the mothers. "Crossing Crossings Cautiously" takes only a little thought, a little care and possibly a moment's time. The results can be measured only in terms of lives saved, limbs unbroken and homes that have not been rendered grief stricken. Certainly the automobile owners and drivers ought to display an active interest and participate to their utmost in this great humanitarian undertaking.

HORNWORMS START ANNUAL RAID ON TOBACCO PLANTS

Tobacco growers are facing the annual task of ridding their plants of hornworms, recognized as the worst insect pest of the crop in Kentucky, according to H. H. Jewitt, entomologist at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. The adults, or moths, appear from the first week in June to about the middle of August, while the maximum number of worms are apparent in the field about August 15, he said. The worms are so destructive that tobacco could not be grown successfully without the use of control measures for them, he added.

Hand worming cannot be relied upon to keep tobacco free from the worms, even with the most careful examination of each plant, while Paris green, which formerly was used quite extensively to kill the pests, is giving way to arsenate of lead. The latter material adheres to the plants, longer than does Paris green and, therefore, is more effective, while it rarely injures the plants even when an excessive amount is used. This material has an added advantage in that it can be used during periods of unsettled or rainy weather.

The arsenate of lead is applied to the tobacco by means of a dust gun. The old style guns are being replaced by those with fans ten inches or more in diameter and having special devices for preventing clogging at the outlet. Where it is necessary to use an old style gun, the arsenate should be mixed with an equal bulk of sifted wood ashes. The dusting should be done when there is no breeze, either in the morning when the dew is on the plants or in the evening. An active operator can dust several acres in a day.

Under average conditions from three to five pounds of the arsenate an acre is sufficient for one dusting. At least two dustings should be made while a third is sometimes necessary. Where it is necessary to apply the poison as a spray, because of the lack of dusting apparatus, from three to five pounds of the arsenate should be used to 100 gallons of water. Brands of arsenate of lead containing at least 30 per cent arsenic acid, of which not more than one per cent is free of water soluble, should be used.

SIMMONS DEFENDS PRESS

While the metropolitan press is being assailed in the senate in the interest of tariff extortionists, it does not lack defenders in that body. The able Democratic senator from North Carolina (Mr. Simmons), former chairman of the finance committee, not only defended the integrity of the press, but exposed the reasons for the assault in his usual clear and forcible manner in a recent speech. In part, he said:

"I assume that these gentlemen (Republican tariff makers) are not after the importers and the department stores so much as they are after the newspapers of the country, the press of the country. That is their objective. We did not hear much talk about the activities and the sinister motives of these importers and department stores until we began to read into the record these editorials from the great metropolitan newspapers of the country denouncing this bill in unmeasured terms. It was these editorials under which the senators on the other side, in charge of this bill, squirmed and writhed. It was these editorials that drew their fire. But, it became necessary to ascribe a sinister and a corrupt motive to the newspapers, especially of the Republican press, that were so severely criticizing and denouncing this bill; and then for the first time, coming in force, in overwhelming force, we saw and heard these assaults upon the department stores and the importers. For what? For the purpose of firing an ulterior and unworthy motive upon the newspapers for their attacks upon the bill."

"I say here now," the senator continued, "and I challenge successful contradiction, that up to this time there is not one particle of evidence to sustain this charge of the United States except the bare, unsupported statements of those who have made the charge in the senate. Therefore, I ask, have you proven your case? You certainly have not prove it against the importers as to prices or against the department stores as to prices. Where is your evidence to establish your charge—a charge that involves and presupposes almost unspeakable venality on the part of a large and influential part of the press of the Republican party?"

INFERIOR Sires RETARD

DAIRY HERD DEVELOPMENT

With only one purebred sire for every 370 dairy cows in the state, material improvement of Kentucky's milk producing cattle will remain an impossibility until more purebred males are introduced, according to a new circular, "The Co-operative Bull Association in Kentucky," which has just come off the press at the College of Agriculture.

According to the publication, a co-operative sire association is an organization of dairy farmers, or others who own dairy cows, formed for the purpose of co-operative ownership, use and exchange of outstanding sires of the dairy breeds. The typical association is composed of from 15 to 50 farmers who own from three to five bull jointly.

Six advantages of such associations are outlined in the circular, which was prepared by E. M. Previtt, a member of the college dairy department:

1. The formation of such associations in all parts of Kentucky will make it possible to breed every cow in the state to a purebred sire.
2. It makes the use of fewer and better bulls possible.
3. Farmers realize a quick return on their investment, the value of the offspring in the first generation being increased from 30 to 80 per cent.
4. An opportunity is offered for fine breeding.
5. Community breeding is encouraged.
6. Farmers have an opportunity to get together in community meetings to discuss matters of mutual interest.

The circular also outlines the steps in the organization of co-operative sire associations and contains a model of recommended constitution and set of by-laws. It may be obtained free by writing the Experiment Station at Lexington for Circular No. 122.

LOADING SEASON OPENS

FOR MILLIONS OF HENS

More than 3,000,000 hens will stop laying during July and August after which they will be worthless as egg producers until the following spring, according to estimates made by the poultrymen at the College of Agriculture. The state has about 10,000,000 hens, one-third of which stop laying early each summer and become loafers, according to results of culling campaigns which are conducted by the college.

As a rule, the hens which stop laying at this time of the year are the early molters and certain characteristics which they show make it easy for the farmer or the poultry raiser to distinguish them from the layers and cull them from the flock. Characteristics which are important in culling are outlined and described in detail in Circular No. 101, which is being distributed free by the college to farmers interested in ridding their flocks of low producing hens.

Culling out these hens saves feed, utilizes waste feed for good hens, eliminates poor hens so that they will not be used as breeders and makes more room for laying hens and pullets, the poultrymen say. Culling at this time of the year has an added advantage in that cull hens will bring better prices now than they will later in the season.

Recollections of Mt. Sterling Fifty Years Ago

By Rev. J. Pike Powers, D. D., L. L. D.

In looking over my last article printed in the Advocate, I see I failed to mention my neighbors, Judge M. M. Cassidy and Judge H. Clay McKee, who were active lawyers, and Mr. Napoleon Lloyd, who lived near me, and also John Rose, Charley Fizer and Mr. Galnes, who were contractors and business men.

The Churches

The Presbyterians had two organizations, but only one meeting house, located on the south side of Main street. These two bodies, I believe, followed the respective leadership of Drs. Robert J. Breckinridge and Stewart Robinson, master minds with few equals and no superiors hardly since the days of Jonathan Edwards. Dr. Rutherford Douglass was the esteemed pastor of the Southern church, succeeding Rev. Mr. Leonard, who had recently retired to take charge of a large school. Rev. W. Owsley Goodloe preached with great satisfaction for the other church. He married Miss Rainey, a sister of Mr. Clay Rainey and Mrs. Leonard.

The Methodists had only one organization, with a large membership, worshipping on East Main street. Rev. Robert Hiner was the pastor, beloved and honored. I stood outside at a window one night and heard him preach a great sermon on the text, "Dearly Beloved, I Beseech You as Strangers and Pilgrims, Abstain From Fleshy Lusts Which War Against the Soul."—I Peter 2:11. His son, Welborn, who was a young preacher, rode horseback with me over much of Bath county, distributing religious literature of various kinds. We found some families who had no Bibles. When they were not able or unwilling to buy we gave them the Word of God. I remember one good woman to whom we showed the Book and asked if she would not like to have one, and she replied, "Law, yes, it would be so nice just to set the children's names down in."

The Christian church was the largest in the town. Rev. William Munnell was the excellent minister—a man of fine spirit and Christly sympathy. I shall never forget his kindly words of encouragement and his prayer for the young Baptist preacher in a day when religious controversy was rife and polemic debates were frequently in order. A word fitly spoken, how good it is! It is like apples of gold in pictures of silver! Blessings on his memory!

The Episcopal church was on the west side of the court house. The membership was small and they had no resident rector, but held occasional services. My good friend, Harry Campbell, was one of the active vestrymen. He came often to hear me preach and opened his heart and his home with gracious cordiality to Mrs. Powers and me when we needed friends and were trying to make them. It was quite an coincidence that the first rector secured for the parish was Rev. William Dudley Powers, a cousin of mine, from Virginia, whom I had never met. But as soon as I heard of his arrival, I called on him and introduced myself as the pastor of the Baptist church. He said, "My name is Powers, too." I asked, "Where from?" He said, "From Virginia." "What family?" "A grandson of William Powers, of Richmond"—my father's own brother. It goes without saying that it was a very pleasant meeting and that afterwards I greatly enjoyed his fellowship and bright, cheerful company. He fell in love in Mt. Sterling with the beautiful daughter of Mr. Henry Howard. Miss Mary was one of the charming belles of Eastern Kentucky. He won her heart. They were married and soon moved to a parish near Baltimore. When the writer was in Richmond last May he called him up and had a nice little talk with him. He is now 74 years old, has retired from the pastorate and is living quietly with the dear wife of his youth, with his face toward the sunset in good hope through grace of eternal life.

Our Roman Catholic friends had no church building, but with wise foresight had secured a fine lot where their present building stands.

Masonic hall through the kind offices of Brother Henry Jones, who, I believe, was worshipful master of the lodge. The next was in the Odd Fellows' room on South Main street by courtesy of Mr. Tom Rogers and others. After that we divided time with the good Methodist brethren in the use of their meeting house. This was a thoughtful and considerate kindness on their part, which we have appreciated through all the years. I shall never forget "Uncle" Dudley Wilson, the Cockrells and others. I was attending one of their meetings at night when, after much anxious inquiry and prayer, Mr. Tipton made a profession of his personal trust in Christ as his divinely appointed and all-sufficient Savior.

There was much rejoicing. "Uncle" Dudley arose and with great solemnity said, "The child was born fifteen minutes after nine o'clock." You see, he believed in the "new birth." At another time General Greene Clay Smith was preaching for us and Mr. Wilson was present. I saw he was greatly enjoying the sermon. After the benediction I asked him how he liked the message. He answered, "Sound to the bone; there wasn't a skipper in it!"

BIG REMOVAL SALE

Starts Saturday, July 15th

Friday, July 14, our store will be closed to the buying public to mark down prices and arrange stocks that we may give the best possible service in the rush hours. The building we now occupy was recently purchased by the Exchange Bank. Our lease is only for a short while longer. We must move. Our stocks are large and we hope to reduce them to the lowest point possible before moving to our new location—the Lloyd Building on South Maysville Street, across from A. B. Oldham & Son's, where we will have larger quarters and one of the best stores in the State. This opportunity to purchase the best seasonable clothing for men and boys in light, medium and heavy weights at prices regardless of cost or worth is golden. Every article will be marked in plain figures at a price that will move it, and we believe in price and the power of price. Nothing will be charged during this sale and there will be no deviation from the marked price, which is the lowest and last. All signs point to higher prices for fall. Many suits offered now can be used the year 'round. So buy your future needs. The world's finest makes offered—Kuppenheimer's, Fashion Park and Giffon Suits and Overcoats, J. & M., Dunlap's and Nunn-Bush Shoes, Knox, Hopkins and the world's best Hats, Eclipse, Columbus and the world's finest Shirts, Wilson Brothers and Holeproof Hosiery and Pajamas, Vassar, B.
